“AGRIROOTS”

from 17 to 26 September 2018 - Lignano Sabbiadoro , Italy

Are you interested in the world of sustainable agriculture and environmental protection?

Do you want to test yourself in an international context?

Do you want to meet new people from all over Europe?

...Take part in AgriRoots project!

Your organization's name is looking for 6 YOUNG PEOPLE aged between 25 and 26 to take part in AgriRoots, Erasmus+ project entirely funded by the European Commission*.

* European grant provides for total coverage of travel, accommodation and board costs (full board), excursions, individual insurance.

WHAT:

AgriRoots project consists of a 10-day youth exchange, which will take place in Lignano Sabbiadoro (Italy), from 17 to 26 September 2018, and which will involve young people from Spain, Germany, Croatia, Hungary and Italy.

We will deal with topics like sustainable development, environmental protection and agriculture as an instrument for social and professional inclusion, to promote the knowledge of an innovative sector and the sharing of values such as protection of the territory and protection of biodiversity.

The goal of AgriRoots is providing youth with a stronger awareness towards social farming and promoting their return to the primary sector.

HOW:

During the 10-day exchange, participants will be protagonists of workshops, role-plays, excursions and debates with experts, to understand the professional and environmental benefits of social agriculture and to strengthen their spirit of initiative and creativity.

Organized within the splendid setting of Villa Serena, close to the Adriatic sea, cultural evenings, outdoor and group activities will promote knowledge among different cultures, dialogue and the exchange of ideas on experiences and life paths, for a personal and professional growth of young people.

WHO:

Participants must be between 25 and 26 years old and they should have a basic knowledge of English, a strong motivation to make international experiences, to make new friends and to learn while having fun.
